

Chapter 6 (6/29/2022)
The Gnomes & Fairies Working Together

The Gnomes took a bunch of washers down to Florida to barter for FOOD for their secret-type animals. The owner loved what they brought down and gave them food for the animals and the Unicorns. This made the trip well worth it. There was once a problem! They had so many meals they could only take two more special animals with them back to Connecticut. It was a great trip to Florida. The rain finally stopped, and the fairies returned to work with the Unicorn and flew back and forth from the Tree across the yard. The fairies were very happy too. Did you learn to Play Hopscotch with your mom & dad & even your grand-mom? Tell your mom to print the RULES of the game. The fairies love that game.....

The Gnomes filled the Tree with everything they brought back from Florida. They fed the Unicorns, mostly staying inside the Tree with the Fairies. The gnomes and their secret-type animals brought back a bunch of rocks and crushed them with their huge FEET before reducing and popping each rock like a balloon. The gnomes also had some other ANIMALS eating their Flowers. The gnomes have to figure out how to stop them from eating all the flowers the kids bring them each day. One idea is for a gnome to gather the Flowers 3 or 4 times a day & put them in a bag & suspend them in the magic water to keep the Flowers fresh to eat.

The Gnomes had to figure out how to get the animals out at night because they stand in a line bumping each other. So they build a special Garage DOOR that raises and lowers. One gnome raises the door and lowers the door as a secret-type animals walks out and “sits on the Platform” then, after the door closes, the animal “huffs & puffs,” and they grow 10 to 20 times their normal size. A gnome jumps on their back, and off they go “FLYING down” to the ground. After they hit the ground, they disappear way into the dirt under the grassroots.

It’s just like on TOP, roads made by worms crawling through the ground. One gnome goes East, and one gnome goes South West.

They look at their Compass that directs them. All Gnomes carry a COMPASS to know which way to go. This is their Special Taco Bell Compass. It has a clip so they wouldn’t lose it in the Worm Tunnels. Which side of the Tree points to the North?

The huge worms, known as “night crawlers,” make the paths under the ground. That is until they hit a STONE or a BIG rock. That is when the “night crawlers” have to change direction because their bodies can’t move the ROCKS. Once the Rocks are busted up by the gnomes, the Fairies continue to make the HOLES straight as they can be. Little worms follow the path making the path permanent.

The Fairies all work during the day, clearing BUGS off the property.

Ants are a problem. Then make deeper holes in the ground and never use WORM Holes. In fact, if they come across a worm, they will all attack it and chase it away. The worm will head for the surface because ants can't stand the sun too long. They get confused and go in all directions.

Thousands of tiny ANTS!
